USE OF COOKIES AND THE ACTIVITY FILE.

The provider, acting on its own behalf or via a third party hired to provide measurement services, may use cookies when a user browses the website. Cookies are files sent to the browser from a web server in order to register the user's activities while they are browsing.

The cookies used by this website are only associated with anonymous users and their computers and do not themselves provide any personal data about the user.

The use of cookies enables the server where the website is hosted to recognise the browser being used by the user in order to make browsing simpler, for example, by allowing users who have registered previously to access areas, services, promotions or competitions reserved exclusively for them without having to register on every visit. They are also used for measuring the audience and traffic parameters and for monitoring progress and the number of entries.

The user can configure their browser to be notified of the receipt of cookies and to prevent their installation on their computer. Please read your browser instructions and manuals to find out more.

It is not necessary for users to enable the installation of cookies sent by the website or by a third party acting on its behalf in order to use this website.

The cookies used on this website are, in all cases, of a temporary nature, with the sole purpose of making subsequent accesses more efficient.

UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES WILL COOKIES BE USED TO COLLECT INFORMATION OF A PERSONAL NATURE.

IP ADDRESSES.

The website servers can automatically detect the IP address and domain name used by the user. An IP address is a number that is assigned automatically to a computer when it connects to the internet. All this information is recorded on a duly registered server activity file that enables subsequent processing of data in order to obtain purely statistical measurements, which allow us to find out information such as the number of page impressions, the number of visits to web services, the order of visits, the access point, etc.

SECURITY.

The website uses data security techniques that are generally accepted in the industry, such as firewalls, access control procedures and cryptographic mechanisms, which are all used to avoid unauthorised access to data.

In order to achieve these aims, the user/customer agrees that the provider may obtain data in order to carry out the corresponding authentication of access controls.

All recruitment processes or processes that entail entering data of a highly personal nature (health, ideology, ...) will always be transmitted via a secure communication protocol (Https://,...) so that no third party will have access to the information transmitted electronically.
